1 October 2009

I recently was referred to Roselyn and her company as I was looking at imaging my business and needed revised letterhead and business cards.

I had already spoken to another designer and had been let down by them as they had not completed what they said they would by the due time and I suppose I was a little hesitant when I made the initial approach.

I was immediately impressed with her enthusiasm and attitude and it became apparent very quickly that she thought laterally and enthusiastically for what I was achieving. Her concept was way beyond what I had envisaged and I consistently get comments on the final work that has been created.

Roselyn asked questions about my business, what I wanted to achieve and offer practice advice on matters that I had not considered. It resulted in an extension of the initial brief and development of the current branding and imaging.

I was impressed by the delivery and accuracy of the work the "can do, nothing a problem" approach was greatly appreciated, as too was the turn around of the job which in reality was a small brief in terms of a marketing assignment.

I have no hesitation in recommending Roselyn and her team. I am a small business and compliment her on the work and very realistic charging rate. I believe that she delivered well beyond what was finally charged.

Yours faithfully
